

Ice Cube Gallery, llc exists to provide a space for critical dialogue and monthly exhibits supporting and encouraging “Artists to push beyond the norm and broaden their aesthetic -le. to be experimental in process, material, and/ or conceptual basis”.

Call for Membership Proposals

Ice Cube Gallery is seeking prolific emerging and established artists and curators for juried review to become a member of one of Denver’s newest and most dynamic artist-run galleries! We are currently seeking all themes and styles of contemporary art including performance, installation, photography, film, multi-media, light, sculpture, artist talk series, juried exhibition or any other style of contemporary art that is pushing the boundaries in concept, process, and/or material.

Member of another co-op? Big ideas for a curatorial project? Established in the Denver area but want a place to experiment and play with your art? Fresh out of school and looking for a place to show your work? Previously applied but don’t feel like we could “see” what you have to offer? Apply for membership! Ice Cube Gallery could be for you!

Westword’s art critic Michael Paglia calls Ice Cube Gallery “one of the most impressive exhibition spaces in town.” Be a part of what he is talking about! Become familiar with our space and our current members by visiting our website www.icecubegallery.com or stop by during our regular hours Fridays 12-9 and Saturdays 12-5.
